NEA CHRISTMAS FEATURE by ED KUDLATY

Open Letter from the HIRSCHS'

Dear friends,

For a few weeks at Christmas time, we are treated to gentle, inspiring Christmas carols, stories and plays that uplift the spirit - that set the mood for true Christian living.

Some wise person once said, "Let me write the music for a nation, and I care not who makes the laws." If this finer Christmas music were extended throughout the year, might not our juvenile and adult delinquency give way to more creative living in the spirit of Christ?

Sincerely,

Carl H. Hirsch

The Christmas Story --

According to the Gospel of St. Luke

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

"(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

"And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.

"And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, unto Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

"To be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child.

"And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

"And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room in the inn.

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

"And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

"And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

"And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which the Lord hath made known unto us."

"And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

"And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

"And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

"But Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart."

Area Is Happy With Site For New Senior College

A senior college in the midst of a circle of surrounding junior colleges is planned for eastern Will County in the vicinity of Park Forest and a short distance northeast of Monee. Area residents are happy with the choice.

The new college will be a state institution to accommodate junior and senior students and provide masters degrees in some fields.

The board of governors of State Colleges and Universities which announced the location for the new university, has hopes that it will begin operation in 1972 or 1973.

Acquisition of the first tract of land, a tract of 162 acres known as the Doescher farm, took place last week. The land was purchased from the Village of Park Forest. In time the state expects to have 750 acres purchased for the campus.

Park Forest received $235,000 for the tract it sold the state, or approximately $1,450 an acre which is looked upon as a quite reasonable price of property in that area. Negotiations are reported in progress for the remainder of the land needed.

The state board of higher education is asking the coming session of the general assembly $24,840,000 for construction funds and $739,323 for the 1969-71 biennium as an operating fund to pay salaries of a development staff.

The site was selected following an exhaustive study by Johnson, Johnson & Roy, a professional land use planning firm from Ann Arbor, Mich. A committee from the board of governors visited many sites in the south suburban area and agreed with the planners' recommendation that the Park Forest site was superior to all others.

Dr. W. I. Taylor, chairman of the board, described the site located along the Illinois Central Railroad, west of Park Forest and Park Forest South, as excellent in every respect.

Availability of rail transportation was a prime factor in the selection, it was said, as well as vehicular access from I-80, and I-57, now under construction.

Approval of the site also was given by the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission.

The master plan for higher education, which provided the blueprint for the new university, calls for it to offer degrees in liberal arts, education and business.

Another such school authorized by the legislature is the proposed Sangamon University at Springfield.

These two schools will be operated by the board of regents. When the 75th General Assembly approved the two schools the University of Illinois and the University of Southern Illinois both fought for control over them but lost out.

There had been a recommendation made that the school to be located in eastern Will County should be located in South Cook. The final site is about three miles further south -- a mile south of the Cook County line.

Northern boundary of the site is Stuenkel Rd. and the southern boundary is a mile and quarter south of Stuenkel Rd.

It is expected that eventually the enrollment will be around 12,000 or more.

The new university is surrounded by junior colleges. There is one at Kankakee, Chicago Heights, Thornton, the Moline Valley Junior College and Joliet.

Northern Cook County was trying for this senior college and there was talk during the campaign that Ogilvie was agreeable to such a plan but announcement of selection of the Will County site has put an end to that.

School board member, school administrators, teachers and civic leaders have expressed delight that the board of governors has selected a site for the senior college so accessible to regional residents.

Prizes For First Baby

The annual "First Baby" contest for the area that takes in Frankfort, Green Garden, New Lenox and Orland townships, will be conducted again with the winner receiving numerous prizes donated by various business men.

The winner, of course, will be the first child born Jan. 1, or after, to parents who have resided in the four-township area since Nov. 1, 1968.

The child can be born at home or in a hospital. The parents, doctor, or some member of the family must telephone the Graphic Newspapers office at Mokena before noon of Jan. 6, giving the name of the parents and the time and place of birth.

In the event of multiple birth the first child is the winner.

The telephone numbers of the Mokena office of the Graphic Newspapers are: 312-479-9321 or 479-9451.

L-W Art Student Wins In State Competition

Among the many talented art students at Lincoln-Way High School, Robert Linkowski, a senior, stands out. He recently was awarded a state prize for a poster he designed and entered in a contest sponsored by the Illinois Employment Service and the Disabled American Veterans.

Robert's prize winning poster was designed around the slogan, "Hire the Handicapped."

The 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Linkowski, Rt. 1, Mokena, was awarded a three-day, all-expense-paid trip to Chicago and a $25 U.S. Savings bond. His poster took fourth place in the state competition.

Young Linkowski has been in the art program at Lincoln-Way for four years. He plans to major in art education at Illinois State University and become an art teacher. Robert's art teacher at Lincoln-Way is James Pitcairn.

L-W High Needs More Space

Faced with the need of further expanding its present plant to meet an ever increasing enrollment, the administration and board of education of Lincoln-Way High School is marking time, so to speak, until a decision has been reached on Providence High School.

The diocesan school board of the Joliet Roman Catholic Diocese is scheduled to decide the fate of Providence at its meeting Jan. 13.

Increasing costs and a diminishing supply of teaching personnel from religious orders is a problem for Catholic schools throughout the country, it was said, and the pinch also is felt in the Joliet diocese. Some weeks ago it was announced that a study had been conducted in the diocese and a recommendation had been reached to close two of the ten diocesan high schools. One of these was Providence in New Lenox Township. The other was in DuPage County.

While final decision was not to be reached until Jan. 13, the announcement that Providence High could be one of the schools closed has brought a wave of protest from the student body and their parents.

Story of the school's plight was carried by the two major news wire services and contributions are reported to have been coming in from various parts of the nation and from other nations too. However, it has been pointed out, such aid is regarded as more or less temporary.

In his report to parents and citizens this month, A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way, made reference to the Providence situation. He pointed out that Father Niles Gillen, superintendent of the schools of the Joliet diocese, and Bishop Blanchette had called attention of leaders in Will and DuPage counties to the financial plight of the diocesan schools more than a year ago.

"Unfortunately their devotion and efforts fell short in raising the necessary funds," Supt. Chapman said. "Even many of the public schools in Will County and elsewhere are gradually going broke, so it is easy to understand the plight of our private schools. Tuition less than the costs, insufficient contributions, inflation and the employment of more lay teachers have all helped to create this unfortunate dilemma. For example, in 1964 our per-capita student cost in Lincoln-Way was $670.13; 1965, $729.95; 1966, $808.18 and last year, 1967 it was $869.55.

"I sincerely hope our neighboring schools, Providence and Sacred Heart, can always remain open, since they are great assets to our entire community, giving our students and parents complete freedom of choice. One must also admire their outstanding students, so enthusiastic in trying to build and support a program rather than tearing it down."

Should Providence have to close it would present no enrollment problem to Lincoln-Way, it was pointed out, as there are about 48 of its students who reside in the Lincoln-Way district. If Providence should close its students would be absorbed for the most part by the other three Catholic high schools in Will County.

Chapman said in his report that in the event the Catholic board of education decides to close Providence the Lincoln-Way board will give serious consideration to the advantages and disadvantages of possible purchases.

Lincoln-Way's architects have been making preliminary plans of a building designed primarily for freshmen immediate north of the present school.

The big advantage of acquiring a building designed as a school is that it could be used immediately after the final take-over, it was pointed out. But whether the L-W board should buy a school or build one is a question that would have to be decided at a referendum.

The school has to have more space by September, 1970, Chapman said.

Burglars Carry Off Stereo, TV

Burglars hit twice in the Frankfort area.

The thieves, if responsible for both jobs, apparently were of the strong type because carrying out a console type stereo set, with the cabinet filled with records was not a light task.

The stereo, a cuckoo clock from Germany, and a vacuum cleaner were taken from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Zortman, Sauk Trail. The loss was estimated at about $600.

The other place entered was the apartment of Elizabeth Bellucci, in the Oak Park Motel, Wolf Rd. and U.S. 30. A portable TV and a tape recorder, valued at about $450 were taken.

The occupants were away from home when the entries were made.

Building stones taken from quarries are limestones, sandstones, granites, marbles, and slates.

Orland Park Post Office Expands Facilities

The Orland Park post office is now occupying its enlarged quarters. The new building, adjacent to the Orland State Bank will be utilized for the most part by institution but the post office also benefits.

The post office has 4,700 square feet of floor space as compared to 1,250 before the addition was completed.

Mrs. Evelyn Cramer, postmaster, was glad to have the extra room in time to meet the Christmas rush but if Orland Park continues to grow at the rate it has, it was pointed out, it will not be too long before it is outgrown again.

Kipling Said It Too- In His "East Is East"

Americans too often equate modernization in the developing countries with westernization.

Dr. Susanne Rudolph, professor of Political Science and chairman of the University of Chicago's Indian Civilization course, speaking before a group of South Suburban social studies teachers and department chairmen recently at the Educational Development Cooperative (EDC) in Homewood, stressed the need to view the modernization in Asia as Asian not westernization.

Some of this biased view, Dr. Rudolph pointed out, stems from the superficial reports and histories of a colonial period, the lack of research in the developing areas on the questions surrounding culture change and the problems of the foreigner making comparisons to his own culture.

THOMAS J. BARTON received his master's degree in business administration at a recent convocation in Rockefeller Chapel at the University of Chicago. An accounting major, Mr. Barton has accepted a position with Peat, Norwick, Mitchell & Co. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Barton, Orland Park.

The Declaration of Independence is preserved in a helium-filled glass case in the National Archives Building in Washington.

"We must ask ourselves - how modern are we? We often judge others by what we think we ought to be and by what we think we are.

"Also, we assume that stress on the individual and on individual liberalism is part of modernization.

"Actually, the path taken by many of the developing nations is from a collective or caste organizational system to collective modernization. This may or may not have anything to do with a socialistic ideology. In Japan, for instance, there are many examples where forms of industrialization have been incorporated within a traditional zaibatsu family system," she said.

"Caste is not likely to disappear but rather it will absorb within it new industrial and urbanized social and economic systems." The educator continued:

"Americans, when dealing with the developing areas, often mistakenly associate political merit with modernization, assuming that political corruption in a foreign country disqualifies it as a modern country. If corruption is a criterion, we need to again ask ourselves: How modern are we?"

Modernization, according to Dr. Rudolph, is a process generally recognized by Asians as a change for a better way of life - on Asian terms.

"I conceive the form of modernity as a sense of alternatives," she said. "The Utopian Yankees at Concord had this sense. If you talk to the 'elite' in most of the new nations who have been exposed to education and exposed to alternatives, you get a fairly concise feeling of what they are about.

"There is tremendous demand in India for education. People don't want to live in poverty once they see the alternatives."

Dr. Rudolph's talk, "Reflections or Comments on Some Key Policy Aspects of Modernization in India," was one of a continuing series of presentations to teachers participating in the Asian project coordinated by EDC staff member Sterling Scott.

The next presentation, on January 6, will deal with modernization in Japan. It will be conducted by Fred Lorch of the University of Chicago.

MRS. EVELYN CRAMER, postmaster at Orland Park was glad to have the addition to the post office completed in time to handle the Christmas mail.

Crib Deaths No Accident

Copyright 1968 World Book
Science Service

The sudden and unexplainable death of a baby in its crib, usually during the night, leaves parents for the rest of their lives with a guilty feeling of not having been vigilant enough to avoid the tragedy.

Parents who have lost a child this way should not blame themselves, says Dr. Abraham B. Bergman in the Nov. 18 Journal of the American Medical Assn.

"Crib death (sudden death syndrome or SDS) is a clearly definable disease and can no longer be called a 'mystery killer' any more than cancer can," he says.

Crib death kills as many as 10,000 babies a year in the U.S. It is more prevalent in winter and in the baby's third month. It happens to twice as many male as to female white babies.

Medical MEMO

By BETTY JOHN

There is not such a marked sex difference among non-white, though there are three times as many non-white crib deaths, probably due to the lower economic status of the non-whites.

Crib death strikes more premature and low birth weight babies than it does normal weight babies.

Most autopsies prove that the infants did not die of suffocation, cow's milk allergy or spinal cord injury, as previously believed. They die of a definite infectious process.

Studies at Seattle's Children's Orthopedic Hospital and Medical Center showed viral infections such as adeno, coxsackie and parainfluenza. Evidence of pulmonary congestion and inflamed areas point to a possible pressure within the chest during a brief and noiseless struggle for air.

"In other words, like a nuclear explosion, several events must occur at the same moment to trigger the process which causes the vocal cords to go into spasm so the child cannot cry a warning," Dr. Bergman says.

"A normal baby with a small airway to begin with might, just by the position of its head, cut off its oxygen supply. It usually awakens and moves, but if it doesn't the lack of oxygen acts upon the brain.

So far, SDS can neither be predicted nor prevented. But parents should not blame themselves for it."

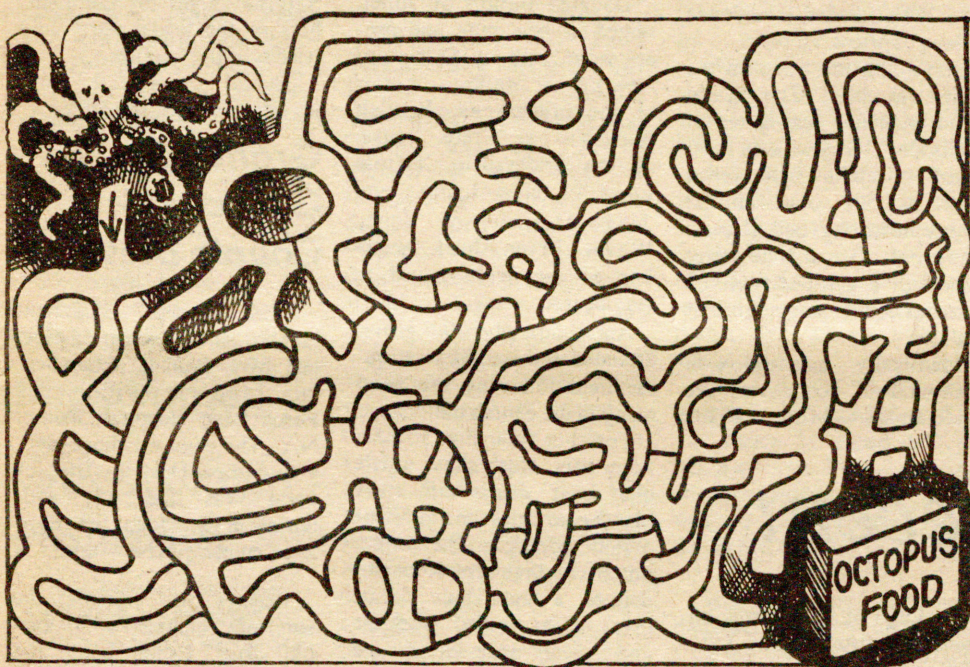

SUGAR HAZARD -- Too much sugar in the diet raises the risk of a coronary heart attack, says Dr. Manuel Tzagournis of Ohio State University. Excess sugars cause the liver to produce an overabundance of triglycerides and cholesterol that deposit along the blood vessels.

DREAMS A CULPRIT -- Anginal attacks may be brought on by some dreams, according to Dr. Curtis Williams of the University of Florida, who has monitored blood pressure, brain waves, eyelid activity and heartbeats while cardiac patients are sleeping.

COOKIE CURE -- At Ohio State University, Dr. Robert M. Zollinger has been having considerable success in dissolving gall stones by feeding his patients cookies made with lecithin, an ingredient in many commercial food products including margarine.

NEW CANCER CLUE -- Dr. Yoshio Hosobuchi of the University of Chicago has, for the first time, shown that chemically induced brain tumors contain virus particles.

A Half-Witted Octopus Helpful

Copyright 1968 World Book
Science Service

What good is a half-witted octopus? Believe it or not, an octopus with half a brain can be very handy when you're studying behavior changes.

One of the biggest problems faced by scientists doing animal research is the difference between individual animals.

Researchers have to be certain that the responses they observe are truly the result of something they've done, rather than just characteristics of the particular animal they're working with.

For most species, scientists must compare effects in one animal with those in another to see if they have achieved something.

But the octopus is different. It appears that an octopus' brain can be split in half easily. He recovers rather quickly and scientists have a very good control against which to compare the other half.

One can train a normal octopus to use four of its eight arms to do something - discriminate between rough and smooth objects, for example.

By comparing his performance with that of a split-brained octopus, you can get an accurate picture of how important the whole brain is to performance.

Furthermore, by checking the untrained four arms you can tell how long it takes for learning to transfer from one side of the brain to the other. Such transfer, of course, doesn't take place in the octopus that has a split brain!

You can also find out how much of an octopus' brain actually learns a task. Suppose both sides of the animal have been trained to discriminate rough and smooth.

If you whittle down the size of one half of the brain, you can find out how small it can be before the skill disappears in that half of the octopus.

Can you help this half-witted octopus find his way through the maze?

Students Can Inquire About Teaching Jobs

Information on current and some anticipated unfilled teaching positions in South Cook elementary and secondary school districts is available to college students home for the holidays through the Educational Development Cooperative (EDC) of South Cook and North Will counties.

With the exception of the afternoon prior to and Christmas and New Year's days, regular 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. office hours at 18216 Harwood Avenue in Homewood will be maintained. The phone number is 799-7900.

According to Pierce Van Auken, Personnel Services Coordinator, 16 teacher candidates are known to have been placed in area districts through EDC's teacher recruitment and placement service within the past six weeks alone.

In addition to openings which continue to occur because of resignations for a variety of reasons, teachers in several special teaching categories remain in considerable demand, notably librarians, physical education and industrial arts instructors, Van Auken said. A greater demand for qualified permanent teachers is expected in the wake of January evaluation of staffing needs by the districts.

EDC's teacher placement service began about two years ago by agreement of the 62 member district superintendents when the Cooperative was formed under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The service is essentially a clearinghouse operation whereby teacher candidates registering with EDC are referred to districts where openings are known through the process of periodic surveys. In turn, listings of registered candidates are forwarded regularly to all superintendents for their personal follow-up.

Since the retention of Van Auken as a member of EDC's professional staff, the service has been extended to personal and mail contacts with colleges and universities to increase the supply of teachers in areas of greatest demand to local districts. Additionally, Van Auken has wide experience in guidance and teacher counseling.

Palsy Fund Drive

Mrs. Clarence E. Creer, 14228 Union Street, Orland Park, has been named area chairman of the annual "53-Minute March" on cerebral palsy according to Arthur Rubloff, chairman of the Board of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago. The "March", which will take place on Sunday, Jan. 12, is so named because a child is born with cerebral palsy every 53 minutes. There are more than 24,000 children and adults with this crippling condition in the Greater Chicago area, it is reported.

Mrs. Creer, in accepting the chairmanship, said that the funds collected on the "March" support the agency's developmental center for severely handicapped children, family counseling services, five summer day camps for children, an adult residential camp and four adult activity groups, as well as extensive research and educational programs.

She went on to say that cerebral palsy, which is caused by injury to the part of the brain which controls motion, can't be cured at this time and is a lifetime condition which may require a lifetime of services. She said, "altho it can't be cured, it can be helped. A great deal can be done to alleviate the problems of those afflicted, and their families, thru early diagnosis, counseling, treatment and training. We can help the whole family when we support the United Cerebral Palsy programs and I'm confident that our community, which has responded generously in the past, will do so again so that United Cerebral Palsy can continue to provide these services and support research to find the way toward prevention. Cerebral palsy is still the country's number onecrippler of children.

A goal of $500,000 has been set for Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane counties, the area served by United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago.

Hash-Roberson Vows Said In Indianapolis

Arrangements of white gladioli and mums decorated the altar of Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church at Indianapolis, Ind., for the wedding ceremony between Miss Sandra Kay Hash and Charles Jay Roberson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hash of 2914 Eagledale Drive, Indianapolis, while Mr. Roberson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roberson, 109 First Av., New Lenox.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. Stephen Prodromidec at 3 o'clock, Sunday Dec. 1. Godfather of the bride, Martin Kaitson, assisted during the ceremony. Wedding selections were played by organist James Kantrazie.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, the bride wore a Candlelight crepeback satin gown of regal silhouette. The bodice of the gown featured a wedding ring neckline and temple bell sleeves of three-quarter length. The skimmer "A" line skirt and sleeves were bordered with reversed fabric trim. Her trumpet detachable court train was held by a tailor bow. She carried a cascade bouquet apricot tea roses.

Preceding the bride up the aisle was Miss Zoe Hash, maid of honor and sister of the bride. Her gown was fashioned of royal blue velvet with a pale blue chiffon blouse featuring bell sleeves. She wore a royal blue velvet bow with a gathered net veil and carried a single apricot tea rose.

Identically gowned with the maid of honor was the bridesmaid, Miss Diane

Mrs. Charles Jay Roberson

Badders and the Junior bridesmaid, Miss Jane Kaitson. Miss Joni Pappas, cousin of the bride was flower girl.

Douglas Button of Joliet, served as best man and ushers were Anthony Shiner, of New Lenox, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Randall Buchanan of Crete, cousin of the bridegroom, Darold Engel of New Lenox, and John McDade of Joliet. Wayne Bryan Judd, neighbor of the bride served as ring bearer.

Approximately 300 guests attended the wedding reception held following the ceremony in the church hall.

For her daughter's marriage Mrs. Hash chose a pale blue coat dress with navy blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegrooms mother Mrs. Roberson donned a light blue A-line dress with beaded neckline and silver accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The newlyweds are both seniors at Ball State University. They are now residing at 326 East Race street at Muncie, Ind. and will continue their studies.

Guests attended the wedding from many sections of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, California and one of the guests came from Greece for the wedding.

The Northwest Holiday Inn at Indianapolis was the scene of the rehearsal dinner on Saturday night for the members of the bridal party and friends of the families.

Several pre-nuptial parties were given for the bride.

Dessert With Seasonal Accent

Snowcapped raspberry parfait is a decidedly dressed-up dessert that bounces with a sweetly tart filling, according to Northern Illinois Gas Company home economists. It can be whipped up in short order and is especially pretty and tasty for festive meals. To serve, recommend the utility experts, garnish the parfait with dollops of whipped cream and perhaps a few whole raspberries.

RASPBERRY PARFAIT

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 2 (10-ounce) package frozen raspberries | 1/2 cup sugar |
| 2 tablespoons gelatin | 1/2 cup almond liquer |
| 1/3 cup cold water | 1 cup whipping cream or Cool Whip |
| 1 (7-ounce) bottle champagne (or Seven-Up) | |

Directions: Thaw and heat one package of raspberries on a medium flame or use the automatic burner setting (175 degrees) found on most gas ranges. Force raspberries through a strainer. Thaw second package of raspberries and strain. However, treat berries gently and keep them as whole as possible. Add this juice to that from first package. Soften gelatin in cold water and add to fruit juice. Heat liquid until gelatin is dissolved. Allow to cool. Add champagne, sugar and liquer. Chill in refrigerator until semi-firm. Layer gelatin mixture, whole raspberries and whipping cream in 8 parfait glasses. Return to refrigerator until ready to serve. Garnish with dollops of whipping cream. Serves 8.

hints for homeowners

The holly and the ivy may have been the plant of Christmas in Merry England but in modern America it's the poinsettia.

This has been true since 1830 when Joel Poinsett introduced the plant from Mexico. Acting in the dual role of plant explorer and Ambassador to Mexico, Poinsett sent sample plants to several florists including Buists of Philadelphia. It was Buist who dubbed the plant the poinsettia and introduced the plant to our holiday trade.

For a long time it was a puzzle to horticulturists why this plant flowered only at Christmas. Now we know that the plant responds by flowering to the long nights of winter. In fact, the plant is so sensitive to light during the early stages of bloom that even flashlights, lanterns, or streetlights shining on a greenhouse can prevent blooming.

Some time ago it was noticed that in certain greenhouses poinsettias would not bloom along main aisles or near thermometers. It was found that night watchmen shining lights on the thermometers cast enough light to prevent bloom.

Since the first poinsettia was introduced many new varieties have been developed. There are reds such as Indianapolis, Barbara Ecke Supreme and Elizabeth Ecke. An outstanding new pink this year is Spring Pink. It was developed by Dr. Robert Stewart of USDA at Beltsville, Md. Two white varieties are Ecke White and New Ecke White.

Perhaps the most important recent poinsettia introduction is red poinsettia, Paul Mikkelsen. It is outstanding for its long lasting qualities; with routine care it can last as long as Easter.

Last week 150 poinsettia growers from the area met to hear such experts as Jim Mikkelsen discuss how to handle this holiday plant. Included were such topics as how to handle the new long lasting Paul Mikkelsen poinsettia that he developed at his Ashtabula, Ohio, greenhouse.

One of the most overrated ideas about the poinsettia is their supposed toxicity. This is based on a report that someone became ill in the tropics many years ago from eating the leaves. It's a fact that they would make a poor salad, but certainly chewing an occasional leaf will cause no problem.

Scrawny plants were also discussed at the Cook County Extension Service Annual Poinsettia Day. It was explained by University of Illinois horticulturists how to regulate the height with growth retardants or growth limiting chemicals. Now it's possible to buy a poinsettia small enough to look well on a coffee table.

Care of the plant by the consumer starts at the flower shop. Make certain the plant is well wrapped and taken directly to a heated car. This will prevent chilling. Now give it plenty of water and plenty of light. Eliminate drafts by avoiding locations near doors. That's all there is to giving a poinsettia good care.

Give Merrier Christmas

Needy families in the New Lenox area this year have been provided with food and other things to make Christmas a bit brighter.

The Lions Club of New Lenox has been celebrating Christmas in this manner for many years. Roy Pfeifer has been the man that headed the basket preparation detail but because of his illness this year the job was taken over by Bud Hunt.

A list of the needy was made up from information obtained from Supervisor John E. Francis and the pastors of the various churches and last week Hunt and other Lions called on various families to find out that they need or would like to have. Some needed household furnishings, some needed articles of wearing apparel, and some needed cash to supplement the food baskets.

Pupils of the New Lenox grade schools brought canned goods and staples to school this past week to help fill the baskets. Turkey, chicken, or ham, and other perishables were purchased by the Lions and added to the baskets just before delivery.

The Lions also offered to provide a Christmas tree for anyone who did not have one but up to the end of last week they had had no requests.

Jane Bills Gets Master's Degree

As wife, mother, and teacher, Jane H. Bills is kept busy. But Mrs. Bills, of 11105 Parker Street in Mokena, has been even busier the last four years as a graduate student working on her Master of Arts degree at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

JANE BILLS

A Lincoln-Way High School English teacher, Mrs. Bills literally worked day and night, winter and summer on her degree. She went to both night school extension courses at the Purdue Calumet Campus at Hammond, Indiana and summer school at the main Purdue campus at Lafayette.

She took comprehensive examinations in August to complete the requirements for her degree, but only recently was informed that she had successfully passed them.

For her Master's degree she chose a major in English Literature and a minor in Modern Fiction. This work extends and compliments the studies previously taken for her Bachelor of Arts degree which she received from the University of Pittsburgh with a major in English Literature.

When she is not grading papers -- or writing them, Mrs. Bills spends time with her husband George, their twin sons, Charles and David, who are juniors at Lincoln-Way, and are at home, and with their eldest son, Robert, who is attending Elmhurst College.

During the summer the Bills family likes to spend time at their cottage on Lake Michigan near Michigan City, Ind. When she is not swimming or taking long walks on the beach or the wooded trails, Mrs. Bills enjoys reading, theatre going, or entertaining small groups of close friends.

Mrs. Bills plans to continue teaching junior and senior level students, as well as her active interest in school functions and counseling to students planning advanced level education.

Arbury Hills

Mrs. Edward Hovi
Telephone 479-5740

The Summit Hill Cub Scout Pack No. 10 had their first Pack Meeting at the school on Friday evening, Dec. 13.

The meeting was called to order by the Cub Scoutmaster, Tom Anderson. He called for the presentation of the flag, which was brought in by a representation of the Boy Scout Troop No. 10. The pledge of allegiance to the flag was given to open the meeting.

Mr. Anderson then introduced his committeemen and the den mothers and the Webelos Leaders. Each den in turn presented a short entertainment in keeping with the holiday season.

Pack 10 Members Receive Awards

The boys were then presented with their bobcat pins, the first award of Cub Scouts. The boys were called by dens beginning with one receiving the bobcat pin in the Webelos, Dave Cummings.

In den No. 1 there were: Jim Daniels, Glen Coday, Todd Griffin, Tony Perritano, Greg Peterson, Jeff Schoenfeld, Curt Cook, James Fronek, Robert Hamilton, and Jack Caston.

In den 2 there were: Richard Booher, Bobby Evans, Danny Sumner, Leonard Pencek, and Robert Booher.

In den 3 there were: Edward Hill, Thomas Tonra, Gregg Searles, James Hecht, Gary Miller, Brian Borchert, and Jeff Dennis.

In den 4 there were: Richard Mansell, Don Perry Muiccie, David Hovi, Richard Albert, Duane Heise, Ronald Ashby, Jeff Pegram, and Romeo Sonsosti.

In den 5 there were: Clifford Hayden, David Lee, Richard Zmolek, Donald Matthiesen, Lester McHargue, Russell Erick, and George Steinable.

In den 6 there were: Vern Crowder, Joe Markowski, Robert Lee, Michael Pierce, Kenneth Honeycutt, and Dave Matthiesen.

Following the awards, the colors were retired by the Webelos Den.

The refreshments were served by the mothers of den 1.

A dancing debut was made by Cindy Lee and Susan Louis last Wednesday at the Joliet YMCA, when they participated in a dance program for the entertainment of a ladies luncheon being held there. Unfortunately Meg Wallis became ill earlier and was unable to join her dancing classmates in the performance.

The same young ladies were also going to perform for the Joliet Moose.

The Liberty Bell is said to have cracked when it was rung summoning the public for the first reading of the Declaration of Independence, but records show it cracked in 1752 just after it had arrived from England.

PRAISES NEWTON

Dear Sir:

Please publish this letter as evidence to the community that the Mokena School personnel and especially the pupils are very grateful for all of the excellent work that Mr. Newton as police chief has performed in the past.

He spent many hours assisting in safety education classes at Willowcrest, and in organizing a patrol club. He was always quick to come to our assistance when we needed him for such matters as stray dogs near the playground, traffic control at contests, and always faithfully patrolling the schools at night. He offered many suggestions regarding outside lighting, and other ways to protect school property after dark.

In behalf of our entire school staff, Board of Education, and pupils of Mokena we congratulate Mr. Newton for doing his job so well.

We wish to pledge our support to Mr. Ryder as the new Mokena Police Chief. We know that he will continue to uphold the law in Mokena and to continue the cooperation with the schools as Mr. Newton did.

Yours for better schools,
James R. Ennis

Dear Sir:

This really should be addressed to the Citizens of Mokena. What in the world is happening to our village board and leadership? The village board just recently would not meet the demands of a very qualified policeman from Midlothian, namely Albert Paulsen, for a salary of $7,000 per year. So he turned in his resignation to the village board.

I personally went to the village board meeting to talk to the members about this matter and was told the village could not afford to pay a qualified or unqualified full time policeman $7,000 a year. But just last month they paid out over $1,400 for policeman's salaries. Which is double the demands of Paulsen. We get a good man like Paulsen and they leave him go. I asked the board wasn't Paulsen a real good policeman (which I know he was and so do they). One member said to me "certainly he was and I was the one who recommended him."

So I said to that person: "You recommended him and three months later you accept his resignation because you cannot pay him $7,000 a year. That explains to me how this village is being run. You get someone good and he's gone. And you're back on the same routine."

Here in Mokena we do not need traffic cops, dog catchers, or a policeman arresting a little old lady burning her leaves in her own yard. We need a policeman like Al Paulsen who is more interested in law and order and has an open mind on every person and issue here in Mokena.

For instance there hasn't been a burglary solved in 10 years. Us people in Mokena have to get more interested in how the village of Mokena is spending our money; so foolishly on a lot of things.

What we need is not yes, yes men or no, no men, or others who say "I don't know." We need board members who will get up and go, and stand up and say so, and use common sense to fulfill their obligation to the people who put them in office to do just that.

We deserve the right to see that our money is spent wisely, and for the betterment of all of us citizens here in Mokena.

A very displeased citizen,
Wesley F. Nelson

COLD BLOODED

Dear Sir:

On Nov. 26, around 5:45 p.m. on Wolf Rd. at 164th St. two valuable dogs were killed by a car in front of their home and left lying there. The driver did not even stop to inform the owners. The dogs had all the identification necessary to show they belonged in the Hague household, in front of whose abode they were killed.

Maybe they weren't killed when hit but when a woman stopped and notified the Hagues, the dogs were dead.

These dogs seldom left the yard and did not frequent the road but the big, beautiful male Labrador retriever, a little over a year old, loved to hunt and the four and a half month old pure bred female German Shepherd -- Heidi -- would run along and watch. They were inseparable.

Heidi was a lovable dog. Midas, the Labrador, was a gentle, friendly dog much loved by the family, (there are four children). These dogs weighed around 75 pounds each and no one hitting them could say they didn't know it. Their car probably was dented from the impact. Why didn't they stop and tell the owners or try to help these poor trusting animals?

Maybe the dogs weren't even on the road . . . the tire marks show the car left the road. I am sure that he or she could have avoided hitting them. If there had been a lot of cars on the road I am sure someone with a love of animals would have stopped. If traffic weren't heavy then the driver could have swerved . . .

I hope the heartless driver who did this reads this letter but I doubt it will move him because I feel that if it had been children this person would still have hit and run.

There is a lot of speeding on Wolf Rd. that should be checked.

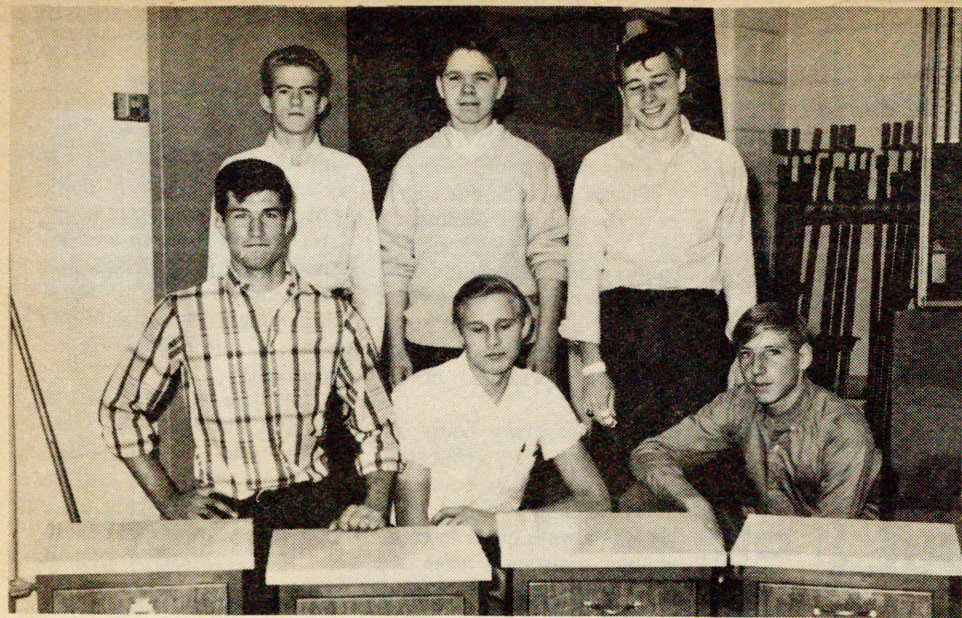

This driver must have been speeding too, to kill two big dogs. Written on a sad Thanksgiving Day by the sorrowful owner of Heidi.

C. H. Sullivan

Set Village
Meetings at
New Lenox

With New Year's Day being the first Wednesday of the month the New Lenox Village Board has set the following Wednesday, Jan. 8, as its first meeting date of 1969. Ordinarily the board meets the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

In January, however, the second meeting will be held on the fourth Wednesday, Jan. 22.

G.I. Insurance Holders Get Bigger Dividend

Some 237,000 Illinois World War I and World War II veterans holding G.I. insurance policies will receive $12,821,500 in dividends during 1969, John B. Naser, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Chicago, has announced.

Beginning Jan. 1 dividends will be paid on the anniversary dates of the policies, Mr. Naser said.

Nationally, VA will pay out $236 million in dividends in 1969 to approximately 4,250,000 veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) policies.

This is $13 million more than the 1968 dividend payment of $223 million, Mr. Naser explained.

The VA regional office manager said that the 228,786 World War II veterans in Illinois who hold NSLI policies will receive $11,829,400 in dividends in 1969.

Nationally, NSLI dividends in 1969 will total $218 million, with payments averaging about $53 to 4,100,000 World War II veterans.

The dividend to be paid the 9,208 World War I veterans in Illinois who hold USGLI policies will total $992,100.

Some 185,000 World War I veterans nationally will receive $18 million in 1969 USGLI dividends, with payments averaging $97, up $18 over the 1968 average payment of $79.

Increased interest earnings on government life insurance funds made possible the higher 1969 dividends, Mr. Naser said.
